As most of you know, on March 28, Hillsborough county closed public parks and related properties; TRAC's flying field was included in the closure. NOTE: Before the park closures, the board had considered leaving the flying field open with significant warnings and disclaimers about the need for careful use of common areas and facilities, but a visit from county staff made that issue moot. :-)

If you have some time, will you please help out by reviewing the TRAC website? Over time, our club website has accumulated a lot of great content. If you haven't spent time there lately, will you please review the site's resources, both for your entertainment and benefit, and to also help make sure links and other features are working as desired? In particular, the Events Scrapbook feature includes links to many photo albums of past activities at the field; some of those albums were hosted on older Google platforms (Picasa & G+); if you can, please check those links and report the names of missing pics or albums to Scott at president@tractampa.com so we can re-link them at Google Photos.

The Membership Info page has a plane-load of content that you may not have seen in a while - check it out!

Also, take some time and review the Field Photo Tour...it's a really nice feature (even if it makes you a little homesick for TRAC).

Thank you...I hope you and yours are well and stay safe!
